

“ If the earth was a single state, Istanbul would be its capital. ”

–Napoleon Bonaparte

For many, Istanbul is home. For some it is a destination — the place they dream of coming and work hard to reach. And for a few, it is merely a temporary stay along life's journey.

Istanbul unites people from all over the world, bringing together every language, religion and culture. Most people claim Islam, but God is doing great things in this city. People are hearing God's Word and accepting His Son. People are finding true joy in Jesus, where they once sought satisfaction in rules, achievements and worldly things. These stories could be like your own. Is this your story?
Could this be your story?

MeetIstanbul.com profiles the history, people, culture and spiritual state of Istanbul, Turkey. The site features video testimonies, prayers for unbelievers and ways you can get involved.

east meets west
old meets new
lost meets found

meet Istanbul.com
this could be your story.

imb
connecting